MONDAY, MAY 4, 1857.

KEY TO THE GEOLOGY OF THE GLOBE, by Richard Owen. New York: A. S. Barnes, 1857 .- A taste for philosophical and scientific pursuits appears to be inherent in that hranch of the Owen family which springs from the celebrated Robert Owen, of New Lanark, Scotland, who is yet a sprightly man, intellectually and physically, although near a century old. The various brothers in this country have greatly distinguished themselves, few men being more widely known than Robert Dale Owen, the U. S. Minister to Naples, and David Dale Owen, our State Geologist. A younger brother, the author of The volume before us, is at present Professor of Geology and Chemistry. He appears to possess much of the peculiar genius of the name, and has given to the world a treatise of great originality and much

Perhaps the first, third, and eighth chapters of Prof. Owen's book will be found of most general interest. The practical rules for the miner in search of mineral wealth, and the inferences to be drawn by the physiologist from the whole investigation, are the two most important portions.

In the first chapter attention is called to the fact that a great many admeasurements, applied to continents, show them to be about 661/2 deg. long, and bringing metallic wealth to the surface, so that given geometrical lines will unite all the important localities for copper, &c., thus pointing out the line under which similar stores may probably be found hereafter. The parallelism of various mountain ranges to the above mentioned coasts is alluded to, and the great heights of land whence rivers diverge are iudicated. The succession of rocks from the N. P. to the equator is explained in the text, and is ered still more apparent hy colored aud other aps lithographed for that purpose. The numerous caverns and caves, especially along certain given lines, are supposed to promote the circulation of air and water through the looser materials interlocated between the rocks of the earth's crust.

In the 3d chapter, the anatomist and physiologist cannot fail to see the marked analogy which exists between this development of the earth and the germination of a seed in the vegetable world or of an egg in the animal kingdom. After giving a summary of the whole, the inferences are laid down that, to ohtain the greatest amount of physical health, we must be careful and judicions in the selection of our diet, places of residence, &c., as well as also in the amount of our exercise; that, to secure mental vigor, we must educate all the faculties; and that, to preserve morality and attain to the greatest national excellence, we must provide social recreation, encourage suitable matrimonial relationships, and above all discourage the intermar riage of near blood relatives.

The Appendix contains a number of facts bearing on these points, placed under the separate chapterheadings, but not otherwise methodically arranged; and it closes with extracts calculated to incite to the fulfillment of the duties laid down in the ethical portion of the work.

This volume is well printed and appropriately illustrated. It is of Southern manufacture throughout, and we suppose will be for sale at our book-

THE FRUIT .- The regular meeting of the Horticultural Society was held Saturday at the Agricultural Rooms, in the Merchant's Exchange building. Various interesting statements were made relative to the condition and prospects of the fruit or in this region. The peaches are chiefly injured, and there will be a fair crop. Should there be no ries, pears, and apples will be abundant.

W. B. B .- Almost everyhedy familiar with our current popular literature must have very eften seen these initials modestly set at the foot of some sweet little poem or at the head of some graceful and eloquent essay in the Home Journal or the National Intelligencer or clsewhere, and numbers, like ourselves, have no doubt wondered what name they stood for, and who the author of so many genial and telegraphic announcement of the other morning must have come with mournful interest:

Washington, April 20. WASHINGTON, April 30.
W. B. Buchanan, of Marshall country, Va., long and facorably known as the Virginia poet and author, and corespondent of the National Intelligencer and the Homefournal, died suddenly in this city to-day at 12 o'clock of tisease of the heart. He was 63 years of age.

Thousands have tims learned at the same moment who their favorite essayist was and that he is no more. Such are the curious and solemn surprises

W. B. B. was not a man of striking powers, but he has written some things that we think the world will delight to cherish. Judging him wholly by those emanatious from his pen which have fallen under our eye, we should say that, without either genius or culture of a rare order, he possessed a warm and luxuriant fancy, a pure if not severe taste, and a quite unlimited command of rich and elegant language. His poetic sense was evideutly large and susceptible, though not always true, and his sympathy with the beautiful in human character especially was most deep and passionate. He, however, possessed little or no creative power, and only a moderate degree of literary skill. His happiest efforts usually suggested the idea of having been made after coutact with some superior nature either in hooks or life, and before the first fiery glow of sympathy had faded from his spirit. They seemed the emanations of a sort of intellectual galvanism rather than of legitimate inspiration. Still his productions were for the most part full of no common charm. His poetry, upon the whole, was, in our opinion, much more perfect than his prose, and occasionally was really exquisite.

We suppose that of course an early tribute will be paid by his frieuds to his character and literary achievements, when we shall happily know more of hoth.

EMBEZZLEMENT AND FORGERY .- On Saturday Augustus Schiekedang, the book-keeper of Messrs. E. & S. Lieherman, was committed to jail, having emhezzled ahout $2,100 of the funds of his employers. Messrs. L. kept an account with John Smidt & Co. and the Bank of Louisville, and the business of making deposits was entrusted to Schiekedang. He had two bauk books, the correct one being in his exclusive possession, and that in which he made the false entries was left at the store. A few days since one of the firm of Smidt & Co. incidentally remarked at Lieberman's that they had overdrawn their account some $1,800. This instantly aroused suspicion, and the emhezzlement was

Some time ago Messrs. Lieberman gave Schieke dang a draft for $300 on New York. This he disposed of at A. D. Hunt & Co.'s, giving them a forged check on the Bank of Louisville. He was absent making other forged checks, in order to square his accounts, when discovered.

Schiekedang is a splendid penmau and accountant, and formerly kept a commercial academy on Fourth street. He has been dealing in lottery tickets very extensively, and said that he hoped to draw a large prize by which he could rectify all his delinquencies.

One of the most significant and cheering results of the late Parliamentary electious in Great Britain has been the numerous triumphs of the Libthe same at their greatest width. A hardly less emphatic victory has been won by the Liberals in four or five other Irish counties, notwithstanding the combined opposition, in one or two instances, of both the Catholic and Episcopal clergy. These flattering triumphs are justly hailed by the liberal Irish press as the earnest of greater ones yet to be won. They constitute the fairest proof we have seen that Ireland is not only able hut willing to achieve self-regeneration. Heretofore Irish patriotism has been too prone to exhibit rather than earnestly employ itself, but these recent popular victories, implying as they do the most patient, systematic, and continued effort, show clearly that the day of mere empty agitation in Ireland has passed away, and that the nobler day of work has come. Undoubtedly this day will usher in the political freedom of the "green

The Detroit Advertiser states that Senator Douglas has given $100 to establish what it calls a pro-slavery church at Washington, and adds: "We believe that Douglas has at times, when stumping his own State, made pretensions of being, at heart, in favor of freedom, but this gift shows his proclivities too clearly to require comment." We are no admirers of Douglas's general public deportment, hut we can't help thinking that the Advertiser's sneer at his donation to a church is extremely silly as well as pitiful.

CHILD POISONED.—Yesterday a woman named Ann Smith was arrested, charged with having produced the death of a child six years old, by giving it poison. She is a tenant of the parent of the child. The coroner held an inquest. We suppose that a scientific investigation of the stomach, by qualified gentlemen, will he ordered.

According to the advices by the steamer Afriea, Spain is anxious for the friendly interposition of France and England in her quarrel with Mexico. Not that she feels the slightest doubt of her ability to thrash Mexico handsomely, but simply because notwithstanding her hot indignation, she would not for anything act precipitately. Of course not! "Mother," exclaimed a swaggering fellow on the 'perilous edge' of a fight, "hold me, or I fear I shall do something rash!"

LIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

PORTLAND TELEGRAPH LINE. Office at Portland, Delime's low; Store, on the wharf, Office at Shippingpert, in the Canal Office, Office at Louisville, Durret's Clottlar Store, corner Fourth and Water streets.

The river is rising pretty fast. Last evening there were 7 feet 9 inches water in the canal and 4 feet 11 peautiful offusions could he. To such the following inches on the falls. The weather is cool and cloudy The late rain has extended to the headwaters, and the Ohio from Pittsburg down, as well as all its tributaries, are rising fast. The Kentucky river was rising on Saturday. Salt river was pouring out at a tremendous rate yesterday.

For New Orleans .- The Woodford, Capt. Mathers, leaves for New Orleans to-day. She is a fine boat and affords good accommodations and fare. The Woodford arrived yesterday, and we were furnished by her polite clerks, Messrs. McLaughlin and Joe Benedict, with late papers and copies of the manifest and memorandum. A card from the passengers of the Woodford, highly complimentary, will be found in our columns.

The H. D. Newcomb .- This fleet and elegan steamer is advertised to leave for New Orleans this evening. The Newcomh is commanded by Capt. Spotts, with Messrs. Landrum and Barclay as clerks. The N. is a first class passenger packet.

For St. Louis .- The Fashion is the regular packet for St. Louis to-day. She is a safe boat and in charge of skillful officers. We are indebted to her attentive officers for papers. The cabin passage on the Fashion is only $8.

For Henderson .- This is the day for the departure of the regular Hendersou packet Statesman. She will leave this evening. We are indebted to her attentive clerk for a copy of the manifest.

The Jacob Strader is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day. The Clara Dean is up for Pittsburg.

The Champion, a towboat, tried to come up over the falls, but she could not stem the current. She has been made fast to the Indiana shore, immediately above the bend, and will make another trial to come over to-day. She is a towboat and too large for the locks in the canal.

The Eclipse was to leave New Orleans last Saturday for this port.

Pittshurg freights are extraordinary scarce here and elsewhere. The Clara Dean has been lying here since Thursday waiting to get a cargo. All the boats from St. Louis and Nashville for Cincinnati and Pittsburg pass here light.

The Fashion reports having met the David White laden to the guards. The R. J. Ward .- The following dispatch has been VICKSBURG, May 1. The Ward will arrive Tuesday and leave Thursay. All well. SILAS F. MILLER. day. All well.

Shaft Broke .- The packet Wm. Dickson is lying up at Caseyville with a hroken shaft. Mr. Stuart, one of the clerks, has arrived with the shaft to have it welded.

Coalborts Aground .- We understand that two coalboats, from Pittsburg to New Orleans, are hard aground between Cairo and Memphis.

THE ELECTION-On Saturday occasioned but little interest, and the vote was small. All the American candidates were elected. In two districts they had opposition, and in the other two noue.

In the first district, M. G. Holmes was elected magistrate over John Downing, and Simeon B. Webb constable over J. W. Osborne.

In the second district, James Grubb was elected constable without opposition.

In the third district John M. Farrar was elected onstable over Robert Storey by about two hundred

In the fourth district, Wm. W. Twyman was elected constable without opposition.

THIEF AND COUNTERFEITER ARRESTED. Saturday Officer Seay arrested a man named Kinneman, who is a pedlar and travels along the route of the New Alhany and Salem Railroad. He was atto sell a fine masonic apron on Market street, and gave various accounts of the manner in which it had been obtained. Upon being placed in jail seventy dollars of bogus money was found in his possession. Any person having lost any regalia of the character mentioned above, will please call on Mr. Seav at the city court room.

The following are the terms upon which Mr. John Bates has leased his theaters in this city and Cincinnati to Mr. Lewis Baker, of Philadelphia: The lease of the Louisville is for eight years, at $4,000 per annum, and of the National, Cincinnati, for ten years, at $8,000, Mr. Baker to spend on the latter house $10,000, the improvements at the expiration of the lease to belong to Mr. Bates.

TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE.-We understand that the members of the various Protestant churches in the upper part of the city are about to form an alliance against intemperance. The first public meeting will be held next Thursday night, at the Fourth Presbyterian church, on Hancock street, near Main. Addresses will be delivered.

ROBBERY .- On Thursday night Mr. James Clark, residing about fifteen miles from Bardstown, was robbed of the following money: One $100 bill on the Commercial Bank of Kentncky, one $50 bill on the Northern Bank of Kentucky; one $50 Bank of Kentucky; $75, consisting of one $20, three $10's, and five $5's; and $100 in gold and silver.

Rev: E. E. Hale, of Boston, on Wednesday evening gave a lecture at Warren street Chapel on Public Amusements. He defended the theater, and advocated the drama when conducted as it should be. The reverend gentleman thinks the New Englanders work too much and play too little.

CRIMINAL COURT .- The spring term of this court commences this morning. The docket is an unusually large one, and the cases are of more magnitude than usual.

MECHANIC FIRE COMPANY .- The members of the Mechanic had another drill on Saturday night, preparatory to their eastern tour. They were led hy the New Alhany Silver Band.

The evidence on which he was convicted was entirely circumstantial, but overwhelming

POSTAGE TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES .- The Postmaster General has just issued a new table of instructions to postmasters, in which he fixes the rate of single letters of half an ounce or under to Great Britain at 24 cents; do to any part of Germany by closed mail 30 cents; do to most parts of Germany by the Bremen line direct 15 cents; do for quarterounce letters to Germany, via France, 21 cents; do for quarter ounce letters to any part of France or Algeria 15 cents. Prepayment optional in all cases. The rates for letters to Canada and other British North American provinces is 10 cents, prepayment optional.

THE NEW GOVERNOR OF MINNESOTA.—Hon. Samuel Medary, the new Governor of Minnesota, was duly installed into office at the Capital of the Territory on the 23d ult. The Governor had the mishap to be wrecked on the day previous. He and about 250 other passengers were on board the Timeand-Tide, which vessel, when about fifteen miles from St. Paul, was struck by a heavy field of floating ice, which caused her to leak so much that her officers were obliged to run her on shore. No lives

The New York Mirror says that not less than seven hundred persons have been affected, some thirty of them fatally, with the National Hotel poison. Senator Hale, of New Hampshire, has become a thin, lean man under its ravages, and Gov. Walker, of Kansas, has not yet recovered from his experience. There are also several persons in New York city whose recovery from the poison is doubtful.

Certain people in the Canadian Parliament have been charged with receiving heavy bribes for pushing through railway charters and contracts. Proofs of bribery in one instance to the amount of $50,000, and in another of $100,000, are said to have been discovered, and will he produced in evi dence before the railway committee.

Two fires occurred at Nashville on Wednesday night. One of them burned and damaged the stock of Gilbert & Co. to the amount of $3,500, and the other damaged the tobacco factory of Meredith to the amount of $3,000. Both insured.

Dennis Coughlin, a Democratic Alderman in Buffalo, has been sent to jail for drunkenness and iotous conduct.

There died in this city yesterday, Patsey Holler, an old and faithful servant of Mrs. Denny. Her uneral will occur this afternoon.

New Orleans, April 25th, 1857.

This region was visited by another frost on the morning of the 22d inst., making the third or fourth since March. It is now quite evident that the cold weather has had a serious effect upon the crops in all parts of the State. The last frost no doubt killed all the cotton, and probably much of the replanted corn north of Red river. Cotton seed has become scarce in several of the parishes, and numerous orders have been seut here to purchase for replanting. The cane has suffered severely, and the best of it is now backward for the season. More than one half of the rations from the plant of last year, it is thought, can not be depended upon for another crop. Of course the cold has had less effect in the lower than in the upper sections of the State, still it can not be hoped that the bright promise held out in February will be anything like realized, however favorable the coming season may prove. The weather is now quite cool and raw, making fires necessary for comfort.

Bulletin says:

We have had some experience and familiarity with cotton and corn fields, and a little knowledge of sugar cane, and we have never witnessed such unfavorable prospects at this season of the year. During the present mouth we have had several frosts, and a nipping one as late as Thursday night, the 23d inst. The cotton and corn are cut down, and in many fields we passed through a couple of days since we noticed that the small blades of the corn were as shriveled and parched as if they had been burned. It is, to be sure, not too late to replant either cotton or corn, but then the earth is so dry that the seed will not sprout or germinate. The cane looks miserably sickly, and is from three to four weeks later in its growth than usual at this time of the spring. time of the spring.

MONDAY EVENING, MAY 4, 1857.

"Examples from the 18th and 19th Centr mes."-This is the title of a book from the graceful pen of Mrs. Sigourney. It contains a collection of very interesting biographical sketches, well calculated both to instruct and please the youthful reader. And it will be found a most agreeable refreshment to the old as well as to the young, and especially entertaining to the minds of those to whom the name of the distinguished author, and the names of the illustrious dead of whom she treats, have long been familiar. She has imparted fresh interest to the story of Wesley, Franklin, Sherman, Hannah More, Robert Hall, Mrs. Hemans, and others. In connection with the book of Mrs. Sigourney, we have enjoyed a treat in the perusal of a new work by the Rev. Horatius Bonar entitled "Desert of Sinai." It consists of notes of a journey from Egypt to Palestine, and brings before the reader the incidents of a desert journey, and the sacred scenes of Bible history, with peculiar life and vividness. We do not remember to have read anything since the travels of Stephens so fresh and full of reality in its simple journal style.

These books may be had at the bookstore of A. Davidson, on Third street. If the minds of others like our own are fond of good and delightful reading, let them go and procure these works-and, after reading them or before reading them, put them in the hands of their children.

The sword presented by Queen Victoria to Captain, Hartstein is of the Damaseus order and richly wrought with nautical designs; the scabbard is of royal purple, with massive solid gold mountings, chased in the most superb style. Instead of the ordinary sash, the sword is suspended by purple and gold bullion in imitation of rope. The handle is studded with carbuncles and embellished with gold tassels. The manufacturers are Wilkinson & Son, armorers to the Queen.

THE FASHIONS FOR MAY .- Our readers, and particularly the ladies, will find much that is novel, instructive, and interesting in the letter from our special New York correspondent, which we publish to-day. It is from a very intelligent source at the very headquarters of fashionable movements.

THE FILLIBUSTERS OF CALIFORNIA .- The San Franci co Bulletin, of April 3d, says that the advance party of emigrants to the Gadsden purchase (now known to be fillibusters for Sonora) had reached Fort Yuma, on the Colorado, by the latest aecounts. A correspondent of the Sacramento Union, writing from the Fort on the 2d of March, says that the "battalion, now composed of three companies," had a long and toilsome journey across the Colorado descrt. Henry A. Crabb is the grand leader. The

We will remain at Fort Yuma a day or two for the purpose of recruiting our horses and mules, and then we will make our way to Sonora, where we will be we will make our way to Sonora, where we will be stationed for one or two months; and theu—'and then"—I leave you to gness the balance. Future generations, perhaps, will bless us as they did the Marquis de Lafayette in the early history of our glorious republic; and if we are uot all of us Lafayettes, we would at least like to be. Time, however, will tell many things unknown to any of us now, and if we are not successful in colonizing the Arizona Territory, the strong probability is that we will colonize ritory, the strong probability is that we will colonize some of the adjacent country.

Mr. Asa Beale has declined the appointment of disbursing agent of the Pacific wagon-road. The last Washington Union has the following:

THE WAGON-ROAD FROM FORT DEFIANCE TO THE Mojavi River.—The corps for the construction of this road has been organized, under the direction of the Secretary of War, as follows: Edward F. Beale, superintendent; G. H. Heap, assistant; Dr. James P. Hambleton, physician. The working party will consist of fifty picked men, with the necessary wagons and tools to break the road through.

Lieut. Charles E. Thornburn has been detached from the Navy Department to accompany the expedition for geological surveys.

Twenty-live camels will accompany the expedition, which will afford ample opportunities to test their powers of endurance and their adaptability to an American climate. The camels will be confi an American chimate. The camers will be confided to the care of Mr. Heap, who, it will be recollected by many of our readers, accompanied the expedition that was sent from the United States for their purchase. The whole party will rendezvous at New College, come time that a work and thence were the control of the contro Orleans some time next month, and thence proceed without delay to the extensive scene of t as and dangerous labors.

All the corps of the several Pacific wagon roads are now organized, and are making the most active preparations for the prosecution of the great work.

It is confidently believed that these great wagon roads to the Pacific will be completed before the expiration of the present year. piration of the present year.

·LATER AND IMPORTANT PROM UTAH .- A correspendent of the True California, under date of Los Angelos, March 25, writes as follows:

The news from Sau Bernardino is ruther exciting. The settlers on the rancho have refused to give up possession to Lyman, Bich, & Co., and it is currently reported here that they have forted themselves up, about twelve miles south of the city, and have supplied themselves with arms and ammunition, and have one large cannon mounted, and bid defian the sheriff and his posse. It is also stated that Rock-well, the chief butcher of the tribe of Danites, the would-be assassin of Gov. Boggs of Mo., has arrived in San Bernardino. It is reported that Rockwell is in pursuit of Bain, who was shot on the Rio Virgin, as is supposed, by some Mormons. Bain was brought into San Bernardino about three weeks since, badly mto San Bernarding about three weeks since, badly wounded, and is still there under medical treatment. It is stated by Mormons here that Bain is accused of the seduction of one of the daughters of Brigham Young, and some other Mormon girls. The news from Salt Lake is also rather exciting. A messenger arrived here last week from Utah, with official reports from that Territory the officer of the reports from that Territory, the officers of the government there being afraid to trust the mails. Mr. D. Betts, the measurger, says the public officials set the United States authorities at defiance, and are preparing in every conceivable way for a brush with Uncle Sam.

On Friday afternoon the workmen engaged in the excavation of stone at Quarryville, Conn., had a tremendous blast. Instead of drilling holes, they found a large fissure, into which they poured fifteen hundred pounds of powder and then stopped up the crevice. When the train was fired at least 3,000 tons of rock were removed, 1,000 tons being thrown from 25 to 100 rod-distant. One solid mass of rock, weighing at least 50 tons, was thrown a distance of 30 rods. Fences in the vicinity were completely destroyed and the tops of trees taken off as clean as if done by the axe.

The Iowa Land Sales in May .- The Baltimore Sun and Union are in error in saying that the public lands in Iowa advertised to be sold next month have been withdrawn from market. A single town-ship of them only has been so withdrawn. That township has been withdrawn on account of depredations of the Indians, which must prevent bona fide settlers from securing their improvements, as the law contemplates.—Wash. Star, April 30.

A remarkable case of existence under privation of food is spoken of in the Rochester papers. Mr. John Ellis, of Henrietta, who made an attempt upon his life by cutting his throat some weeks since, has not been able to take nourishment for twenty-seven days. He suffers little pain and but slight diminution of strength. He communicates with his family by means of a slate and pencil. FASIHOUS FOR MAY.

New York, April 28, 1857. The exceedingly cold and stormy weather from which we have suffered during the past month has greatly retarded the preparations for spring in every department of tride. As yet there has been hardly a day in which warm winter cloaks and furs could be comfortably dispensed with; and spring, so far as New York is concerned, has become a decided imposition, seemingly wrapt up only for the benefit of milliuers and dry goods merchants, to induce ple to buy unnecessary bonnets and superfluous wls, which can never be put to the slightest posshawls, which can never be pit to the slightest pos-stible use. Wise people, thowever, and Merrian among the number, prophesy pleasant weather after the recent succession of long, cold storms, and in that case we may expect to see a splendid display of the novelties which have been preparing for the

This is hardly expected to be as successful in a commercial point of view or as brilliant socially as commercial point of view or as brilliant socially as usual. At present, the spring sales of our leading houses have not equaled those of past years, though that may be partially accounted for on the ground of the buckwardness of the seasou. There has also been a perfect stampede of families to Europe, who invariably make as few purchases as possible on this vide, the Athenic are former to reserve their finals.

The enterprise of the city also turns in another direction. Building, on the largest and most magnificent scale, seems to occupy all thoughts; and it is a noticeable fact that, where the current of public wealth and industry flows into a particular change of the stream that the current of public wealth and industry flows into a particular change of the stream that the current of public wealth and industry flows into a particular change. uel, other streams, kept alive by the same means, are obliged to suffer. Notwithstanding all this, there are plenty left to keep the surface smooth and sparkling, and few of the butterflies which flutter in the sunshine of the gay world will notice that the stream upon which they float is less buoyant or rapid than usual.

SPRING STYLE OF MANTILLAS -- INCREASING RICH-NESS OF DECORATION.

The most remarkable features in the new spring Annillas are their large size and costly decoration, of which it is necessary to employ so great a quantity that dealers find it very difficult to meet the demand at the prices which the public have been accustomed to give, and it requires no little ingenuity to effect a compromise between the demands of the fickle goddess and the limits of the popular purse. For those to whom cost is no object the styles are exceedingly striking and attractive, full, flowing, and ample, trimmed with the costliest lace, enriched with an embroidery of jet, and hung with the nove and pretty drop buttons - nothing can be conceived for out-door costume more elegant and and distingue. The modes described last month have all been adopted as leading styles. The large shawl mantilla, the mantilla basque, and the plain deep basque may be considered as the most novel and recherche. Plain circulars made of drab ladies' cloth and called Phin circulars made of drab ladies' cloth and called "Nightengale" wrappers are worn for traveling and are a cheap and lady-like garment for the promenade at all times. The hoods, instead of being round, as they were list season, are altogether pointed, and tinished with band-some tassels. The co-t is from ten to fourteen dollars.

The greatest variety of mantles of every description are to be found at Mr. Brodie's, 51 Canal street. It is costly styles are remarkable for the rich profusion of their decorations without being too claho-sion of their decorations without being too claborate; they have none of the evident effort of economy which marks other manufacturers, while his medium qualities are got up with much more regard to taste and elegance than is generally bestowed upon them. Black tallettas is the material most in vogue, although moire antique is used also to a great extent, more especially for medium styles, as it needs less trimming and can be made up elegantly at less cost. White and colors also will find favor—as the season advances, but for this month black silks are general-

The richest guipure lace is used for trimming these mantles, at least a quarter of a yard in depth, edged with rich fringe and embroidered with small jet. The cost of the trimming, preparing for a large mantilla basque, was $16 per yard. Six yards were required to make two rows, the upper one forming a pointed berthe, and being disposed over the arm so as to assist in forming a leave. The wise when s to assist in forming a sleeve. The price when ompleted was $125. A very graceful mantilla assque may be made in black cloth, and trimnied with heavy, knotted fringe. We have seen an elegant one for $18; these we have before described as litting to the form like a basque by means of an elastic band, or, if preferred, can be left loose and flowing like a mantilla.

Guipure lace is coming more and more into favor, and is indeed supergriding chantilly.

and is indeed superceding chantilly, except in some instances for flounces and basques. In Paris it is a "rage," but in different designs from any which have been imported into this country. The upper have been imported into this country. The upper part farms a heading which is enriched by a sort of raised work of flowers; to this is attached a very fine fabric, like an exquisite network, which terminates in a scolloped edge finished by a deep rich fringe.

A BRIDAL TROUSSEAU, LACE, AND ILLESION BASOLES. A number of bridal trou-seaus have been in active preparation during the past month, but none that quite equal that of the daughter of the Sultan whose slippers are covered with diaparing our New York outlits with this, makes them sbrink into insignificance; nevertheless, some of the articles comprised in the bridal trousseau of a young and fair Georgian lady deserve honorable mention both from the exquisite beauty of the materials and the delicacy of the workmanship.

A dozen garments of nearly every kind known in a lady's wardrobe were supplied, some of which were chefs-d'œuvre of beauty and art. Six of the chemises were made of the finest French cambric, the fronts to the waist being formed of oblique nand-of vallenciennes and exquisite French emoroidery. The yokes were composed of alternate sections of the same delicate materials and opened on the shoulders, as did the sleeves also, to permit the insertion of diamond studs. Six of the rules de mit were made of precisely the same materials, produc-ing an effect almost too elaborate and cost tifty dollars each. The plainer roles were also greatly admired, from the peculiar heauty of the workman-ship, although the materials were less costly. The entire fronts down to the waist were stitched in fine tucks, eight of them extending to the bottom of the skirt each side the ceutre fold, which was stitched twice and ornamented with pearl globe buttons. The shoulders were attached to a pointed yoke at the back, over which turned a small square collar, prettily embroidered, with cuffs on the sleeves to

The front is fastened with mosaic buttons or knots of ribbon. This is an entirely new style and is made in plain black lace also, tirely new style and is made in plain black lace also, the effect of the insertions being given by bands of black velvet edged with lace, placed across the basque, separating the full illusion foundation into straight puffs, and producing a bayadere effect. Composed of soft lace, which readily adjusts itself to the figure, the bands across have a very graceful effect, but if made of thicker material, as cambric or victoria lawn, the puffs and insertions should be lengthwise, particularly if the figure is inclined to emborapoint.

Embroideries are remarkable for their exquisite beauty this season. The collars are much smaller and the cuffs nearly straight; handkerchiefs also accompany these sets, which are perfect in design as in execution.

EVENING TOILETS, MODE OF WEARING THE HAIR, INDIA GOODS.

For evening dresses young ladies wear light tissue with two flounces, which form a double skirt, or six or eight small ones nearly reaching the short waist, which is little more now than a band under waist, which is introduced that a characteristic arms. With the low corsage, pretty ribbon berthes are worn edged with blonde, and finished behind with a bow and long ends. In front a garlaud of flowers called a chatelaine commences at the losoin and forms a bouquet to the waist, from which it branches eff to the side of the skirt and droops in graceful loveliness over the floating drapery.

A very elegant dinner dress was lately observed entirely new in design. The material was a pale, but exceedingly rich lavender motive antique; the skirt opened down each side to admit a gore of white satin about half a yard in width at the base, but arriving at a point at the waist. The corsage was half high, and cut straight across the front, into which was inserted a pointed stomacher of white satia. The sleeves were tight to the elbow, and then be came flowing by the insertion of gores of white satin, one on the front, and the other on the under part of the arm; across the gores, at a distance of three juches apart, a band of lavender fringe disposed in festoons, from which hangs a drop butto trasting colors, lavender being trying to the com-exion of most persous.

Wide braids have almost entirely superseded the rolls which were so generally employed in dressing the hair last season. This gives an additional appear-ante of height to the head, and is said to be the f rerunner of the enormous "casque" head-dress of Louis XV. The elevation of the hair to the height Louis XV. The elevation of the hair to the height of 8 or 10 inches has been introduced in Paris by Madame de Castiglione, the celebrated Spanish beauty, and rival to the Empress. She affects the style of the ancient regime, of which she presumes to be the representative, dresses in severe antique fashion, which, though so terrible a test to most women, seems only to heighten her brilliant and classical beauty.

For dressing the hair, flowers only are used, principally in the form of wreaths, and must always be

They are very richly represented in coral, and still more superbly by genns set to represent the most delicate sprays and blossoms. India fabrics are rapidly gaining favor with the more exclusive of our elegantes, the styles though

The dress goods, such as China silks, "pincapple" cloth, and other varieties, are admirably adapted for home, summer, and scaside purposes, being fine, and delicate in texture and impervious to atmospheric changes, capable of being washed, and retaining their position without the aid of starch or crinoline. At Fountain's India store, near Bond street, in Broadway, is the largest and, indeed, the only cmporium of the kind in the country. At this estab-lishment are to be found tine white embroidered pineapple cloth, which could almost be mistaken for dencon, so exquisite is the workmanship and o delicate the texture. White crape robes superbvembroidered are also to be found nere, and shawls, also, which, as they are likely to become very scarce, will probably come again into vogue; none having been received for six months in consequence of the English war with China. Chinese fans of wrought ivory and sandal wood, colored feathers, and curiously painted woods, are, also, in great request, together with the old "Nankin" fan, strely as mijness, which is required to account. stately as a minaret, which is required to accompa-uy all dresses made in rococo style. A curious spec-imen of Chinese satin has also been observed, crimson in color and embroidered all over in designs, up two of which are alike; everything human and di-vine scemed to be represented, from an angel to a

EXCITEMENT IN NEW ORLEANS—Love, Desertion, Revenue.—The True Delta of the 24th ult. contains the particulars of exciting transactions which occurred in that place on Friday, in which Mrs. Mary Jane Charles, a widow, young, handseine, and gay, residing on St. Charles street, in the aristocratic and fashionable neighborhood of Canal, was the heroine, and Jas. Andrews, daguerrean artist, the victim. We copy: vietim. We copy:

From the best information we could obtain, we learn that Mrs. Mary Jaue Charles lives and has lived for some time past in a large and elegant establishment at No. 269 Common street, where she rents furnished rooms. She is a widow, and has been for some time; is about 30 years of age, beautiful, highly accomplished, and fascinating in her manners. Andrews is a young artist of lofty aspirations and Byronic exterior, and as he, some two years ago, took rooms at the establishment of a beautiful and faseinating widow, it may, without much stretch of imagination, be supposed that a muity of sentiment soon sprung up between two such congenial spirits. They loved, but did not get mar-ried—they progressed on the mutual confidence plan for nearly two years, when their honeymoon began to waue, or, perhaps, became obscured by the overshadowing influence of the counct, which is now whisking his ponderous tail over our planet, this willing the early blossoms, and destroying, not only the fruit crop throughout the Union, but the sugar erop of our beloved Louisiana. Andrews abandoned the ideal, gave up all thought of reaching the round of the artistic ladder, when his admiring countrymen would concede to him the unquestioned with the warries the numerorists of warries. right of wearing the mappropriated mantle of a Michael Angelo or a Rubens. He became practical. The charming widow was finsh of the "sordid lucre," and with true Jacksonian energy and will he laid his plans for a transfer of the deposits, which he soon accomplished, and instead of creeting a villa on the banks of the Lake of Como with the widow's funds, as a tablished, two decouratives each of the control of banks of the Lake of Como with the wudow status, banks of the Lake of Como with the wudow status, banks of the established two daguerreotype saloons—one at No. 3 St. Charles street, and the other at No. 10, a few doors from the True Delta establishment. This few doors from the True Delta establishment. vas not all—the cup of the charming widow's mise-y was not yet full—the last drop that overflows the golden goblet, like the last ounce that breaks the camel's back, was poured in when the unfaithful Andrews deserted her, which he did a short time ago, and married a Miss Hoffuer.

morning, and will give the sequel in as few words as possible. Mrs. Charles, it seems, made up her mind to wreak vengeance on her faithless swain by assaulting him, and then end life's troubles by killing herself. She procured a beautiful pearl-handled dagger, we believe at Guiou's, and crossed the street towards the entrance of No. 3 St. Charles street, intending to reach the daguerrean saloon of Andrew and strike him while in the act of transferring the features of some fair one to the metallic plate. She met him on the sidewalk, and, as quick as thought, the glistening blade had pierced his neck. As he turned and reeled she inflicted two more wounds on his left arm, and before the bystanders that throng-ed the sidewalk at the time could interfere, she gave him another stab in the thigh, when the dagger drop-ped from her hand. With the utmost coolness she then forced her way through the crowd, no one in it attempting to interfere with her, and proceeded to a carriage in waiting at the next corner and was driv-en rapidly to her home, 269 Common street. The widow is under the guardianship of Captain

The widow is under the guardianship of Captain Baldwin, in Orleans street, although her indefatigable counsel had her brought to Recorder Stith's court yesterday morning with the expectation of getting a certificate from the physician that the dagger-reotyped daguerreotypist was out of danger. This was found to be impossible, however, as Andrews was, if anything rether worse vesterday uporning than if anything, rather worse yesterday morning than

If what we have heard be true, he is decidedly not out of danger either morally or physically. The moral aspect of the matter has assumed a couple of new phases, not altogether calculated to make the affair perfectly agreeable to the "sick man" when he gets over his present difficulty. We have heard that in a certain case in one of the courts, in which the widow was interested, Andrews acted as her husband, and even affirmed to it. In such a case, of course, his marrying another "wife" would place him in an awkward predicament, and leave him open to a grave charge. The further talk is, that the widow was introduced by the daguerreotypist to various respectable parties as his wife. In this case the denouement which has been brought about will leave him liable to an application not of more agreeable character.

The New Cent.—The Mint will begin on the 25th of May to pay out cents of the new issue, in exchange for Spanish and Mexican factions of a dollar, and at the nominal rates, or in exchange for the copper cent now in circulation. Persons applying will be attended to in order, daily, between the hours of nine and two o'clock. The silver or copper coins must be presented in even sums of five dollars and not exceeding fifty dollars.

We notice a call of the Board of the Directory of the Jefferson and Brownsboro' Road Company to meet at John T. Bate's residence. We hope the managers of this road will push it to completion. It is not only important to the interests of the firmers in the rich and fertile neighborhood through which it passes, but is also important as a great thoroughfare to and from our agricultural fair-grounds, and it ought, by all means, to be smooth by the time the great National Fair is to come off. We sincerely hope the managers of this road will bestir themselves. The city, we are assured, will not be behind in completing the bridge.

The Fourth Anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held on to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, in the Chestnut street Presbyterian Church. Addresses may be expected from Hor. Judge Bullock, Rev. Mr. Smylie, and Rev. Dr. Everts.

MILITARY ORGANIZATION .- Persons desirous of meeting with the military company that is about being organized in the eastern portion of the city are desired to meet at the Lafayette Engine House asset Wednesday night.

BAPTIST MINISTER'S MEETING. - The annual meeting of the Kentucky Baptist ministers occurs to-night at the Walnut street church. There are several prominent clergymen in the city who will take part in the interesting exercises.

It appears from the Democrat that there were found in his house a volume of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," a map of Canada, several schedules of routes to the North, and a letter from his son, in Canada, detailing the pleasant trip he had, the number of friends he met with on his way, with plenty to eat, drink, &c., and concludes with a request to his father that he shall tell certain other slaves (naming them) to come on. cludes with a request to his father that he shall tell certain other slaves (naming them) to come on, which slaves did leave shortly afterward and have reached Canada. The court, however, held that the law under which he was indicted was not applicable to the case, and he was accordingly acquitted. He was then immediately arraigned upon another indictment—for having in his possession "Uncle Tom's Cabin"—and tried. In this case the court has not yet rendered a verdict, but holds it under curta till after the Somerset county court.

CAPTURE OF AN AMERICAN SLAVER! — Horrible Scenes on Board—One Hundred and Thirty-Seven Deaths on the Passage—Several other Shivers Ex pected.

On Thursday last, the 16th inst., the inhabitants of St. Ann's Bay were thrown into a state of considerable excitement by the arrival of a schooner—evidently American—towed into port by H. M. brig "Arab." It was soon ascertained that the schooner wis a slaver, and that she had on board a large number of captives. It appears that the captain of the "Arab" had received information that a barque and schooner were expected in Cuba from the coast and schooner were expected in Cuba from the coast of Africa, each with a cargo of slaves. A strict watch was, therefore, kept, and on Monday, the 13th inst., a suspicious-looking craft was seen, with a fall press of sail, making the best of her way to her destined port. She was closely pursued, and the captain, finding that there was no possibility of escaping trem the "Arab," described her, taking with him in a shallop his crew, money, chronometer, and other useful articles.

The commander of the Arab dispatched his gun-boat with 15 men, under the command of his 1st Lieutenant, with orders for the capture of the shal-Lieutenant, with orders for the capture of the shallop. The chase continued for nearly three hours—and a shot having destroyed the rudder of the shallop, the Captain, who was owner of the slaver, surrendered. Two of his principal slaves and an interpreter, were taken from the shallop, and the crew were left in to make the best of their way to Cuba. The 1st Lieutenant then boarded the schooner, and found her filled with Young Africans, males and females, to the number of 373, no less than 127 having fallen victims to the horrors of the middle having fallen victims to the horrors of the middle pussage during a voyage of 59 days. The poor cap-tives were in a wretched condition—all of them were naked—and the greater part seemed to have been half starved. They were packed closely together and covered with dirt and vermin.

On the arrival of the schooner in St. Ann's Bay, On the arrival of the schooner in St. Ann's Bay, several gentlemen went on boa.d, and their sympathies were excited at the misery they witnessed. Messrs. Bravo & Bro. suggested measures which were adopted, and with their usual liberality ordered a steer to be killed and soap prepared for the sufferers; other gentlemen furnished ground provisions, bread, &c.; and, while the food was being prepared, the whole of the human cargo was brought upon deck, washed, and had blankets given to them until clothing could be procured. Thirty of them were in a dying state, but the most humane attention was paid to them, and, up to the time when our informant left St. Ann's Bay, they were all ulive and expected to do well. The Hon. Chas. Royes Custos, of the Parish, sent off without loss of time a despatch to his Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, acquainting him with all the circumstances connected with the capture, and requesting to be informed whether the capture, and requesting to be informed whether the capture, and requesting to be informed whether the capture was enabled over to proprietors of estates who were anxions to procure their services.

The captain of the schooner refused to give his name, or the pame of the vessel, but stated that he

The captain of the schooner refused to give his name, or the name of the vessel, but stated that he would be a loser of $30,000—a loss which did not cause him much concern, as he had made other and successful trips. A great deal of information, lever, has been obtained from the interpreter, mentioned that several vessels were left on the African coast—that they were to have sailed soon with full cargoes—that upon an average two vessels departed weekly, each with 500 to 700 slaves on board—that the trade was rapidly increasing—and that the slaves on being landed in Cuba were worth from $500 to $700 each. With regard to those that were very tracking in the school of the regard to those that were very tracking in the school of the regard to those that were supply of provisions on the day of capture, and so limited was the quantity of food doled out to tham during the passage, that when they saw the soup, bread, yem, &c., which were sent on board by the gentlemen of St. Ann's, they made a rush to get at them, and it was found necessary to exercise a rigid discipline in order that the numbers that were the most enfeebled should be the first supplied.

The slave schooner has two decks, and between them the captives were packed in such a manner that they had scarcely room to move. During each day of the voyage they sat in a painful posture, eighteen inches only being allowed for each to turn in, and in a deck room of thirty feet in length 300 human beings were stowed away, and brought up in platoons once every day to get a small portion of fresh air. The schooner draws but six feet of water, is of great breadth and flat-bottomed, and was thus built to enable her, in case of pursuit, to run into a port where there was not much depth of water.— The interpreter states that when slave-trading captains cannot escape cruisers they make their way to a particular point of land on the Cuban coast—rur the vessels ashore-and leave the slaves to perish. place alluded to is surrounded with rocks but flat-bottomed boats can get in—and the whole of that portion of the coast is blanched with human

The Album Semanal says that Gen, Jerez has taken possession of San Juan del Jur—so of course Walker can get no more assistance from California, Walker can get no more assistance from California, either in men or provisions.

From the 8th to the 27th of March, there arrived at Liberia, in Costa Rica, 86 deserters from Walker. They declare that the balls of the allies' cannon cross the entrenchments, and begin to cause considerable damage. They continu the account that Walkerhas 600 men very strongly fortified in Rivas. A great portion of these are sick or wounded, or rendered incapable of duty from the niguos (a small insect that gets into the flesh, generally in the feet, denosits its ears, and linally causes the loss of the insect that gets into the flesh, generally in the feet, deposits its eggs, and linally causes the loss of the member, if not taken out). They had been many days nearly starved. There were 125 deserters from Walker in Punta Arenas de Costa Rica and San Jose. The Panama did not bring any away, because the Government was unwilling to incur the great expense by this route.

The Costa Rican Government, paid Capt. Down

The Costa Rican Government paid Capt. Dow, this trip, all the expenses which they had promised for the batch of 126 he brought away on the previous trip, except the railroad expenses.

Among the deserters that have come into Costa Rica is no less a personage than Walker's Quarter-Master General. Col. Caycee's name is inseparable from all the reports of hard-fought battles since Walker has been in Costa Rica. He is always mentioned in the dispatches for his bravery and good conduct

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Saturday, April 4. Gen. Bosquet took possession of San Juan del Sur on the 24th March, and up to the 27th no less than 100 fillibusters surrendered to Canas, who forwarded them to San Jose, en route for Liberia. They all state they left Walker with only 120 men, and the only provisions he had were three mules.

Walker offered, on the 25th March, to surrender, but registive orders were given to Canas to aggree to but positive orders were given to Canas to agree to no capitulation that was not unconditional.

It is also rumored that Gen. Henningsen will be severely dealt with. Reports from Salvador say the Commissioners regarding the partition of Nicaragua have agreeably arranged matters, and President Rivas addressed the Government of Costa Rica that the intended partition was acceptable to the leading Nicaraguans, as they were afraid a new fillibustering expedition might be organized in North America, to invade again Nicaragua.

The preceding is taken from the New York Times. From letters in the same paper we take the follow-

The facts I have collected make it quite certain that Walker and the remnant of his forces ere this have either been taken prisoners, destroyed, or escaped from the country. There can be little doubt that San Juan del Sur is occupied by a sufficient force to prevent his escape by that route, and every other avenue and even cgress from Rivas seems to be closed. Besides, if he should endeavor to cut his way to San Juan del Sur, he would probably have also to fight a large force on the Jocote ranch, five miles from San Juan. If, however, he could get to San Juan, I suppose that Commander Davis would intercede or perhaps interfere for his protection, and San Juan, I suppose that Commander Davis woman intercede or perhaps interfere for his protection, and take him and his force on board the St. Mary's. Or as the Orizaba was at San Juan, or to return to California from this port about the 8th of April, he possibly may have escaped by her. If taken by the allies, it is scarcely possible he will escape public execution.

The Latest .- The news from Walker is to the 13th of April, by way of the lake and river. A dispatch came to Greytown of that date from Gen. Mora, stating that he had got Walker and his whole force confined to only two houses—that he had dug a trench all around what was left of the city, and that Walker would be forced to surrender by the 20th, to-day

The Lockridge Force .- As regards the breaking up of the force of Loekridge, the following are stated to be the facts:

On the 3d of February, the steamship Tennessee arrived at Greytown, carrying out orders there from Morgan & Co. to Scott, their agent, to endeavor to break up the force of the fillibusters, and leave the river to the Costa Ricans. I presume that the Steamship Company, having at last come to the conclusion that nothing more could be expected from Walker, and having perhaps joined in a new company to get a charter from Costa Rica, decided upon abandoning him. On the arrival of the Tennessee, Lockridge's force was up the river, in the vicinity of Castillo, with a view of attacking it. But not feeling at all certain of success, after reconnoitering, they encamped to consult upon matters. On the 3d of February, the steamship Tennessee noitering, they encamped to consult upon matters, when they were met by the information that they must in future rely upon their own resources. A pormust in future rely upon their own resources. A portion of them came immediately down the river, and found the Tenuessee had returned there, on the 6th, from this port. The captain of that ship was urged to take them on board, but refused, as he said he must take some 200 men from Key West on account of the United States. Finding that the whole lot would soon be pressing upon him, the captain up steam and was off, leaving the poor devils to their fate.

Scott then, on condition that the Costa Ricans should not molest his property, undertook to get the men off. He agreed if the British fleet would take men off. He agreed it the British fleet would take the men to Aspinwall, that he would take charge of them from thence. Capt. Erskine, or the officer in command, assented. Scott then gave draft on Chas. Morgan & Co. for the expense of the passage from here to New Orleans and New York, holding himself, under the guarantee of the fleet, the arms of the fillibusters for his security. When the ships arrived in this port, last Friday night, and presented the drafts, they were refused by the agent of the steamers. The officers of the Cossack and Tartar then threatened to land the men against which the then threatened to land the men, against which the Governor of Panama instructed the Prefect here to remonstrate, and thus matters stand as I write Capt. Erskine, you will see, has drawn an elephant

The Cossack has 174 of the men on board, generally in good health. Her commander now proposes to draw on the British Government at $10 a head, in favor of the Grenada, if she will take them to New Orleans, so that his ship may be relieved, and he may go to Carthagena to consult with the Commodore as to what is to be done with the 200 on the Cossack. The measles has broken out among the latter, and it is reported there are two cases of the small-pox, so that no ship will take them, at any rate, it is presumed.

The men are stowed away between the guns on deck and between decks, a rope being drawn along the breech of the tier of guns to fence them in. They look like bears in a cage, only twice as dirty and savage.

Six O'clock.—The Grenada has just gone, taking 110 fillibusters, on account of the British.

The latest news from Grevtown is given by the Aspinwall Courier of the 20th:

Aspinwall Courier of the 20th:

The steamer Thames arrived here this morning, from Greytown, bringing several of the officers of the late San Juan river tillibuster force. Per steamer Thames we have four days' later intelligence from Greytown. We learn that Lockridge remains at Greytown, and that the Costa Ricans are still there. n. Wheat and Col. Anderson came in the Thames. We also learn that the impression is no longer dis-guised at Greytown that Walker has been sold by Morgan & Son.

The symptoms of dissention between the Costa Ricans and the Nicaraguans have already shown themselves on the Atlantic side and in the interior, as they did some time since on the Pacific side. Nivas sent a collector of customs to San Carlos, and Gen. Mora sent him back with the message that he Gen. Mora sent him back with the message that he would attend to the collecting on the river. Col. Canty declared the river open, and several parties had gone into the interior with passports from him. Mora was expected at Greytown. Col. Anderson waits here the next news from Walker.

To-day, the 20th, is the day fixed by the Costa Ricans for the finishing of Walker on the Pacific.

On the 12th, the steamer Panama arrived at Panama with the news that Walker was hemmed in by a force of allies quintuple his number, and sure to be increased lifty per cent before he could extricate himself; that he was destitute of provisions, and his chances of supplies cut off; that the Costa Ricans had the heaviest metal, and a good range upon him, but that he seemed determined to hold out, and that he was well entrepeled, and otherwise fortithat he was well entrenched and otherwise forti-

FROM NEW GRENADA .- It appears that the six points said by the Tiempo to have been demanded by the United States Government, are not correct, and the following is the actual demand: 1st. To constitute the cities of Panama and As-pinwall into two independent municipalities, inde-pendent and neutral, with the power of self-government, extending over the territory of ten miles wide on each side of the railroad. Perfect freedom of the transit route. Neutrality and liberty guarantee The sovereignty not changed. Other nations to be the sovereignty not changed. Other harbors to be invited to join in the guarantee.

2d. To cede to the United States, in full sovereignty, the two small groups of islands in the Bay of Panama for a naval station, and all the rights and privileges reserved in the railroad contract, for an analyse consideration.

ample consideration.

3d. To pay the damages occasioned by the outbreak on the 15th of April.

4th. The sum to be paid by the United Stales.

All these New Grenada absolutely and decidedly rejects, and in her turn claims the sum of $150,000 from the United States for damages done to Panama and New Grenadian citizens by Americans on the from the United States for damages done to Panama and New Grenadian citizens by Americans on the 15th of April; that the United States owes reparation to New Grenada for the rude protest of Col. Ward, dated April 21st, and for the disrespectful letters of Commodore Mervine and Capt. Bailey.

The notes of Senors Pombo and Gonzales are long and full of false assertions and incorrect deductions. In the House of Representatives it has been proposed to raise a loan of $500,000, in case New Grenada was attempted to be invaded by the United States.

States A letter from Aspinwall, dated April 20, says: The alarming aspect of our relations with New Grenada is creating great excitement here. Imme-diate war with the United States is apprehended. diate war with the United States is apprehended. The property-holders of Panama have begunalready to calculate the chances of loss during the scence which may yet transpire before the settlement of the difficulties between this country and the United States. For some weeks past they have openly declared that no negotiations could yossibly settle this matter—that there certainly would be a rupture, and the results would be the temporary posting of United States troops on the Isthmus; but that meantime much should be done. In fact, a plot was formed for the seizure of the specie, from California, but it somehow leaked out, and the prompt precautions taken postponed it or killed it, we cannot yet say which. The postal and tomage tax must be collected at once, and in future, and all that is due must be paid forthwith—and then they ask themselves how the attempt to enforce this can be made. It can be used as a pretext for another riot—an effort to seize the specie in transit.

From Jamaca.—We learn from the Kingston Learnel 2224 that on the 15th Arril. H. M.

From Jamaica.-We learn from the Journal of 23d, that on the 16th April, H. B. M. brig came into St. Ann's Bay, having in tow an American schooner with 373 slaves on hoard, from Africa, bound to Cuba. The name of the schooner s not given. Great excitement prevailed at St. Ann's in conse quence of this affair. It was rumored that another slaver was off the coast, from Africa, and a British steamer had started in pursuit.

On boarding the schooner a horrible scene present on boarding the schooner a horrible scene presented itself. The captives were in a most wretched condition—all of them were naked, and a majority of them on the verge of starvation. They were packed very closely together, and covered with vermin.

the following:

The bank statement for the week discloses a market falling off in every item. In short loans the reduction is balf a million, and in deposits on less than one million, thus showing the extent to which the balances bave been lowered by the sharp demand for money. The specie line only exhibits a moderate decrease, but the exchange account has declined upwards of $400,000. The deposits proper now stand at $12,393,200. The following are the precise changes as compared with last week:

The week closes on a somewhat lessened demand for money, though we can hardly perceive any abatement in the rates, unless in partial instances where a particular line of choice paper has been marked off at 9 % cent. Otherwise the current figure for first class names is 9%, and for good paper 10 cents.

wise the current figure for first class names 1235, and for good paper 10 cents.

This discount is sufficiently attractive to absorb most of the money seeking investment, but there is nevertheless still an excess of paper on the market, whilst in bank facilities contine to be required on a more extended scale than these institutions can generally afford. The great deficiency in our sugar crop, the large amount which has constantly to be paid for foreign imports, and the upward course of exchanges, are all working adversely to returning ease, and preclude the prospect of cheap money for some time to come.

and preclude the prospect of cheap money for some time to come.

In sterling a limited business was done to remitters at 193/3(199%, though buyers are not disposed to pay above the inside rate. Some ship bills were sold at 199%, and about £10,000 bills of lading drafts at 193%. A considerable business was transacted in francs, including one purchase of 350,060 at 51,17%. The rungs of the market runs from of 183/26.13%. Some sixty-day bills on New York were taken at 13/261% Seent, discount, but bankers do not draw better than 1. Sight was dealt in at % Stent, premium, with a good demand. Some of the banks ask % over the counter. One asy sight was sold at 34, and five days at % Seent, premium.

DIED,

In San Jose, California, on the 13th of March, o sumption, Mr. Roland King, a native of Allen of Ky., aged 40 years.

rest The Washington correspondent of the New York Times, dated 30th ult., says:

Advices have been received here from Kansas, by Advices have been received nere from Kansas, by the Government, which are in the highest degree gratifying. The free State men, under the leadership of Gov. Robinson, have resolved to co-operate with the Administration to secure a fair expression of the will of the people in relation to the question of slavery, and will abandon their previous policy of inactivity.

This is not a matter of surmisc, but is the explicit determination of Robinson himself. It has been communicated not only to the Government, but to Mr. Walker, who is still in our city.
